

Vision

Lord thank you for the gift of sight today,
That I can open the window and welcome in your light.
Thank you for those glorious clouds, I look up and anticipate your coming.
And the houses nearby, thank you for neighbours and community.
Bless these homes with your grace and your peace.
In the distance I can see trees and mountains, thank you for nature, for all that inspires worship, and for the call to adventure!
Thank you for the unseen angels that stand guard at our door.
And for the birds of the air, robins and wagtails that land and scurry alongside as I step to my car, chirpy companions, friends you give us for free!

Lord open our eyes to see you at work in your world,
and our lives today.
Help us see your smile in the beauty and the colour,
your reflection in human creativity and ability,
and your face in the faces of those in need.
Help us see your holiness and grace even in the tragedies,
the perplexing, hideous atrocities of human depravity.
Help us to look with compassion on the multitude,
like our Master does.

Thank you for the gift of vision today.
Open our eyes, help us see.

Amen
